

Student Learning Outcomes Assessment Form
San Diego Continuing Education Program, SDCCD

Program	Emeritus/Older Adult
Course Title	SOCC 503 Social Studies/Older Adults
SLO Type	X Course ___ Program
SLO Developers and contact information	Kimberly McIntyre 619.388.1836 kmcintyr@sdccd.edu
Proposed SLO Statement	1. The Social Studies-OA students will be able to demonstrate the ability to appraise events and happenings in the local, regional, national, and global environment by describing the incidents through conversations with individuals. 2. The Social Studies-OA student will be able to appraise the influence of specific historical events in relation to local through global happenings through experiential group discussions. 3. The Social Studies-OA student will be able to analyze the impact of United States foreign policy on current local through international occurrences by comparing and contrasting two international areas of concern in a group dialog.
Proposed assessment instrument or mechanism	SOCC 503 will be asked to use the Social Studies Assessment Rubric for analysis.
Rubric	(See attached.)
Resources needed for assessment	The Social Studies Assessment Rubric will be provided to Social Study instructors the first week of the semester.
Timeline for assessment	The rubric assessment should be completed at the end of the third week of the semester and repeated the fourteenth week of the semester.
Sections or classes targeted for the assessment	Social Studies classes will be targeted for assessment.
Additional notes or comments	Analysis and feedback will be provided to all Social Studies instructors in the early part of the semester following the assessment.
Program Chair or Assistant Program Chair responsible for reporting information	Kimberly McIntyre